THE P. C.
EDITOR
SAYS—

The Baptist Ladies will serve a turkey dinner in the basement of their church Thanksgiving for 50 cents from 11 o'clock until 1:30. Tables can be reserved by phoning either, Mrs. James McCabe or Mrs. Miley Limbaugh.

Before his death Hardy Williams placed his watch with some one for a loan but left behind no memorandum and the family would be glad to refund same if the holder will notify this office or Virgil Williams, the son.

Both Senior and Junior Chambers of Commerce are backing a proposition to secure decorations in keeping with the enterprise of Sikeston for the Christmas holidays and will ask merchants, tradesmen, and others interested in bringing more people to Sikeston, to contribute as liberal as possible to make our streets look as attractive as possible, and to have the electrical displays of a permanent nature to be used year after year. Key up your pride and subscribe liberally.

Mrs. Blanton expects to arrive in Sikeston Sunday on the Frisco from Washington D. C., and other points. We are having the house given a thorough going-over in order that nothing suspicious will be found. She says nothing about her health which we believe must be much improved.

The Malone picture house was jammed and packed Monday night to witness the damned exhibition ever shown in Sikeston and we hope the like will never occur again. Just how Deacon Will Hayes ever let it get by without deleting certain parts is a strange thing and the only way we could think he did it was because in his old age and senility it looked good to him. "The Streets of Paris" shown at the Texas Centennial was the first on the list and the first eye-full was a young woman stark naked from waist up that exhibited a pair of breasts that could have furnished sufficient nourishment for all five of the Dionne babies and had some left. Then followed a bevy of shapely girls behind transparent parols, brassieres, wearing fig leaves the size of two hands. Then a girl who had a big apple to hide her from the eye, did some plain and fancy twisting for the edification of the populace. The real climax of "The Streets of Paris" was the girl with the black lace shawl who seemed to be proud of her shape for the grand climax came when her body showing a three quarter front view—and no fig leaf. What was supposed to be the feature film gave an insight of a narcotic ring that might have had a good moral if the scene at "The Dead Rat Cafe" had been cut. In this part of the film had some of the nastiest and most suggestive body twistings that we hope to never see again. We wondered just what young couples thought of this entire night entertainment, for we were ashamed of ourselves and some married folks, as we left the show house said they were ashamed that we saw them there. We are not blaming the owners and manager of the show house for the films, because they know nothing of the contents of the reel until it is flashed on the screen.

Robert Mow, Jr., is now associated with the Bank of Sikeston reporting for duty Monday morning to the bookkeeping department. He is a mighty fine young man and the Bank is fortunate in securing his services and Robert is fortunate to be associated with this financial institution.

From Parma comes a nasty bunch of verse sent to the editor by some one signing the name of Jack Denton. He says "This is no offense to you as a man for we think you are a gentleman and a splendid editor and as a politician 100 per cent jackass." We take it, he is, or has been a Republican.

One of the nicest acts we have had come under our notice for a long time was that performed by Superintendent Ellis of the Sikeston School who called on Muriel Hurt, the invalid, then called Coach Marshall of Charleston and got permission to park Muriel's car at one of the goals where she sees much of the game. This was mighty fine.

SUITS ON MECHANIC'S LIEN, ACCOUNTS FILED

Three civil suits were filed in Judge Joseph W. Myers' court this week. They were:

George Lough vs. J. B. Kirby and Alf Carr, mechanic's lien, $40, set for Saturday.

Eugene Kindred vs. Millard Mize, $35 for account, set for December 4.

R. L. Proffer vs. Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Snyder, $90 account, set for December 7.

Red Cross Donations Total $450; Drive to End

Donations to the American Red Cross totaled about $450 late yesterday, the Rev. E. H. Orear, the county chairman, announced after workers' reports were tabulated. Mr. Orear said he hoped to conclude the drive this week.

One honor group imitted Tuesday was the grammar school faculty, which subscribed 100 percent the third day of the campaign.

Sr. Chamber to Decorate Downtown for Christmas

A decision to decorate downtown Sikeston property for Christmas was made at a Senior Chamber of Commerce meeting Tuesday night.

Only tentative ideas for decorations were outlined Tuesday, but members of finance and plans committees appointed by W. E. Hollingsworth, the president, will make definite recommendations at a second meeting in the Del Rey hotel at 7:30 Friday night. All business men are urged to attend.

While The Junior Chamber of Commerce concentrates its efforts in encouraging decoration of Sikeston homes, the senior group will devote its time to downtown, where Legion and railroad parks may be decorated, and possibly several streets. The board of public works and the council will co-operate by providing electricity for lights, but the senior chamber is primarily interested in securing the help of merchants through contributions. Only permanent decorations that may be used each year will be purchased.

Mr. Hollingsworth said that Fred Kirby, chairman, and George Lough, N. E. Fuch, F. D. Lair, and C. L. Malone, members, of the finance committee will call on business men this week to ask for contributions. Their report will be heard at Friday night's meeting, as will one of the plans committee, which will decide upon the kind and approximate cost of decorations to be used and the territory to be covered. The plans group is composed of J. F. Harwell as chairman and C. H. Moore, Z. E. McAmis, T. A. Slack, and John Powell.

Apollo Group Presents Original Music Program

By Mrs. L. R. Burns

The time-honored front parlor was resurrected and used as a setting for a charming musical program Monday evening at the Marshall Hotel.

The Apollo Group turned the rusty key, dusted the organ, put out new candles, blew on the chimneys and polished them to their pristine rose-colored beauty, then invited their friends to come and make merrie.

The many-hued costumes vied with each other in enhancing the beauty of the scene—not to mention that of their wearers!

The most venerable guests were those dear relatives of ours—Great Aunt Tabitha (Miss Gwendolyn Kirk) and Grandma Weatherbee (Miss Ruth Hollingsworth) who gave to the second minuet a fragile grace envied by their modern daughters.

Slim Sister Susy (Mrs. V. L. Bowles), Tall Sisters Mariah (Mrs. Sam Gaston) and Short Sister Agatha (Mrs. Harry Hart) drank to us only with their eyes, which in this case was quaffing deeply and refreshingly.

Two Loquacious Women Write Worthless Checks

Two expert women operators left at least four worthless checks aggregating $33 in Sikeston and went away with change and merchandise November 16, it was learned here Tuesday when the checks were returned to the Bank of Sikeston.

Business houses reporting receipt of the valueless checks were Becker's two of $10 each; the Kent shoe store, one of $10; and Fat Williams' service station, one of $3.

The women who operated successfully here are believed to be the same ones who on November 16 also cashed worthless $5 checks at an Illinois store and a Benton confectionery, three checks in Jackson, two in Cape Girardeau, two in Ste. Genevieve, and at least one in Perryville. All of the checks, except those at Ste. Genevieve, were drawn on the First National Bank in Cape Girardeau. Neither woman has an account in the bank, and one of them gave an address found to be a vacant lot.

Miss Edith Becker accepted the $10 checks written at Becker's. Entering the store, the two women talked easily with Miss Becker, telling her they didn't care to buy articles but had only stopped in to look around while they were waiting for a friend. They were saving their money to buy Christmas presents, they said, and one confided to the other that she had $198 in the bank.

One soon found a dress she liked and told Miss Becker she wanted it to wear to an employee's party she said the Gateway tavern manager was giving that night. Both of them worked at the Gateway, she told Miss Becker. The other woman pretended she wouldn't spend her money, but when her companion told her everyone else would be "dressed up" at the party she, too, found a dress. The first purchaser also got a hat.

Miss Becker was reluctant to accept checks and asked for references. The women had none but said they always bought their clothes at two well-known Cape Girardeau firms and one mentioned the name of a Bartel's saleswoman Miss Becker knows. They signed their names as Julia McLain and Jeanette Henshaw and the latter wrote her address as 100 South boulevard.

While the women were in Becker's, one of them frequently went outside a moment "to see if Ann had come yet." Miss Becker now believes they were frightened they might be detected before they could leave town, for just before entering Becker's they had been at Kent's, where the woman who said she was Julia McLain cashed a $10 check after buying a pair of shoes. Her check was honored when an employee recognized the other as Fern Winters, a former Vanduser woman who once worked in a cafe here and later was employed by a Cape Girardeau motor company. The woman who cashed a $3 check at Fat Williams' signed her name as Fern Winters. She was known there, also.

Miss Becker learned through a telephone call to Cape Girardeau Tuesday that no persons called Julia McLain and Jeanette Henshaw are employed at the Gateway. The women are thought to be living at the Cape.

Mrs. M. A. Arterburn Dies Of a Throat Ailment

Mrs. M. A. Arterburn died at her home on Delmar street at 10:20 Wednesday morning. She had suffered for a year with a throat ailment.

Funeral services will be conducted in the Methodist church at 2:30 Friday afternoon. The Rev. E. H. Orear will preach. Interment will be in the city cemetery. Mrs. Arterburn was born May Molatt at Plainville, Ind., on June 9, 1874. She was married to Mr.

'Ichy' Arthur To Open New Cafe Saturday

Ichy Arthur's new cafe will be opened for business Saturday, it was announced today.

Throughout the week, workmen have been busy painting and installing fixtures so that the place might be ready for visitors. Persons who inspect Ichy's on Saturday will be served coffee and rolls or doughnuts without charge.

The cafe, conveniently located downtown on Kingshighway, next door to Arthur's service station, is being painted in a bright, modern style and fitted with the latest equipment. Features of the cafe are a stove operated with bottled gas, a steam table, a bottle cooler, a built-in electric refrigerator, a modern canopy placed above the stove and steam table to remove grease fumes,

RAYMOND SCHWIETER'S

MOTHER DIES AT QUINCY
Mrs. C. J. Schwieter, the mother of Raymond Schwieter of Sikeston, died at her home in Quincy, Ill., Tuesday after a lingering illness.

Funeral services will be held Thursday and burial will be in a Monroe City, Mo., cemetery. Mrs. Schwieter was 60 years old. She is survived by her husband and three other sons, Russell, Carl, and Roy Schwieter.

Another popular fallacy about the number of people thrown out of work by the development of machines was dispelled in a recent study by the National Association of Manufacturers. This study showed that only 16% of the machines developed in America in the last 60 years had as their objective the saving of labor.

Matthews School Fair and Carnival Is Well Attended

By Supt. J. W. Huckstep
The Matthews school fair and carnival was held Saturday afternoon and night. The fair consisted of forty-three classes in the various school household and farm exhibits. Many interesting things were entered. A steady stream of visitors viewed the exhibits from the opening hour until 9 o'clock in the evening. The interest and co-operation of the community was very gratifying and justifies the opinion that this might well be made an annual event. The general consensus of opinion seemed to be that the fair was very much worth while and many expressed their hearty approval of such an effort.

First, second, and third places were given in the various classes. The following are the classes and winners.

We want especially to congratulate the winners, but we want also to thank everyone for his interest, time, and work in helping to make the fair a success. We hope that everyone has been repaid in the feeling of satisfaction which his contribution has inspired.

We feel indebted to Miss Margaret Clymer of Sikeston, Owen J. Taul of Lilbourn, and Amel D. Taul of Canolau, who so kindly consented to serve as judges, and we wish to thank them for their help.

The carnival was well attended and enjoyed by everyone. The usual noisemaking and hilarity prevailed. The amateur hour was cut short because some of the entrants failed to appear. A highlight of the evening was the last few minutes of the contest for carnival queen. In an exciting race for votes, Marie Shell of the Sophomore class was selected with 2323 votes, with Maggie Ruth Spalding of the freshman class, a close second with 2241 votes. Gross receipts from the carnival were $101.58.

LOSER OF TURKEY GAME

BET TO WHEEL WINNER
Either James H. Lewis or David H. Cline will be very tired at about noon Friday.

The approach of the Charleston-Sikeston Thanksgiving day game always intensifies feeling among fans, and this year it has produced a novel bet between two men.

Mr. Cline believes the Bulldogs will win; Mr. Lewis backs the Blue Jays. So they made a bet, which they signed and sealed, and the loser must push the winner to Morehouse in a wheelbarrow Friday morning. The journey will be started from the Bijou at 10 o'clock. Both are confident they will ride.

PARENT-TEACHER MEETING

The December meeting of the P.-T. A. will be held Thursday night, December 3, at 7:30, in the study hall of the high school building. The topic for the evening will be "Child's Health" and the principal speaker will be Mrs. Della Poe, Sikeston school nurse, who will

For President in 1940
BENNETT CHAMP CLARK
OF MISSOURI

Personally we are very glad to learn that F. J. Pendergast, who has been seriously ill for the past five months, has so far recovered as to return to his home in Kansas City. He expects to rest in peace and quiet in his home for two weeks then take up his duties at his down town headquarters. For the next few weeks he will be devoted to death by political pie hunters and for that reason has indorsed all who are now holding positions with his former indorsement, to be retained under Major Stark's administration. Major Stark may have some political obligations of his own and should be left free to make up his own slate without pressure from any source. The Kansas City organization should be recognized in the pie cutting, but if left to the boys from the timber Mr. O'Malley would be one who would return to private practice.

This is Friday's paper printed, Wednesday evening. You know the boys and girls in the office would like to be away on Thanksgiving Day and so would we. All of us expect to attend the football game at Charleston in the afternoon and lend our support and whoops for the Bull Dogs. It will be a good game it matters not who wins.

FIANCE OF MAN KILLED IN CRASH VISITED HERE

First Lieutenant Cleo R. Keen of Moberly, who was killed in a United States marine airplane crash near Annapolis Md., Friday, was the fiance of Miss Mary McDonald of Jefferson City, a frequent guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Nolen here.

Lieutenant Keen and Sergeant Frank Egan, an enlisted man, died instantly when their ship flying low and without great speed, dipped down near a high school, wobbled, and hit slantwise in its nose in a farm field. School officials said the plane's motor appeared to be missing. Both men were attached to the Marine Corps base at Quantico, Va. Miss McDonald, a daughter of D. D. McDonald, former counsel for the state public service commission, and Mrs. McDonald and Lieutenant Keen had not formally announced their engagement but intended to be married soon after Christmas. Miss McDonald is employed in her father's law office in Jefferson City. She was last here on November 15, when she returned home after a visit with the Nolens.

ARRANGING FOR NATIONAL HEAD'S VISIT TO CCAPE

J. Grant Frye of Illinois, past state commander of the American Legion, has been appointed chairman in charge of a committee arranging for a visit of Harry W. Colmery, national Legion commander, to Cape Girardeau December 11.

Details of the visit have not yet been formulated, Frye said, but according to present plans, Colmery will speak at a large night meeting and will appear at the state teachers' college during the day if he arrives in Cape Girardeau in time.

Colmery will be accompanied to the Cape by State Commander H. H. Lark, the 285-pound Legionnaire of Steelville, and by Al J. Haemerle, the present national executive committee from Missouri who directed the St. Louis national Legion convention.

Mrs. William A. McCracken, state president of the auxiliary, and members of all Southeast Missouri posts and auxiliary units have been invited to attend.

A CHANCE TO HELP

Mrs. O. L. Spencer, President of the Scott County Tuberculosis Association said today that letters containing the 1936 Christmas Seals were being prepared for the residents of Scott County. This year the Christmas Seals will be sold in Sikeston through the mail. Mr. Fouch who is a committee member said that solicitations would be limited to a very small number of people and that those people visited personally would not receive seals through the mail. "The mail seal method is very popular and almost universally used," said Mr. Fouch.

Quite in keeping with the dignified manner in which the Seals are offered to the public is the vast amount of work achieved by the Tuberculosis Association through the funds derived from their sale. Through the sale of the tiny seals the organization is able to carry on a relentless warfare against the dread scourge tuberculosis.

The steady drop in the annual death rate from pulmonary and other forms of tuberculosis attests to the wisdom with which the Christmas Seal pennies are put to work in the fight against this disease.

Your money, spent for Christmas Seals, will do an untold amount of good. It will work during the coming year, not only in this city and county, but in Missouri and throughout the United States as well. You may have spent a dollar or two to better advantage in the past. It's doubtful.

Mrs. G. A. Dempster went to Ora, Ill., last Thursday for a short visit with Mrs. Homer Cupp, Friday night she was the guest of Mrs. Walter Husband in East St. Louis, who entertained members of the Priscilla club of which Mrs. Dempster is a former member. Mrs. Dempster returned home Saturday.

THANK YOU

The T. E. L. class of the Baptist church wish to thank those who helped so willing in the bake sale, and especially the non-members of the class.

Miss Rebecca Pierce returned Sunday from East Prairie where she spent a few days in the interest of the W. B. A.

MAN, 91, GIVEN DIVORCE FROM HIS BRIDE, 42

Doniphan, Mo., Nov. 20.—An appeal from the decision of Judge R. I. Cope in circuit court here, in which a divorce was granted yesterday to Webb P. Emily, 91 year old Civil War veteran of West Plains, from his fourth wife, Mrs. Lucy Anderson Emily, was indicated by attorneys today.

The case came to Ripley county on a change of venue. Emily contended in testimony presented during the trial that Mrs. Emily, who is 42, was guilty of unbecoming conduct. They were married on last Thanksgiving day following a whirlwind courtship at Jacksonville, Fla., where he has for several years spent his winters.

Mrs. Emily, who has been married three times, denied charges of intoxication, asserting she had been "doped" on one particular occasion when she was arrested at West Plains and served a jail sentence in lieu of a fine.

2469 MILES OF ROADS BUILT UNDER FEDERAL PROGRAM IN MISSOURI

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 25.—A total

of 2469.4 miles of highways had been completed at a cost of 23,143,470, under the various federal programs in Missouri, November 1, with 386.4 additional miles, costing $11,012,803, under construction and 144.8 more approved for construction at an estimated cost of $3,510,433, according to figures announced by Robert K. Byland, state director for the national emergency council. In October, 14,029 men had been afforded employment on federal highway projects in this state, Ryland said.

Five overhead grade crossing projects, costing $261,639, had been completed by the first of this month, with 40 more viaducts, costing $5,580,301, under construction and one viaduct and two signal warnings, to cost $367,252, approved for construction. Ryland pointed out that 1436.5 miles of highways have been completed under the 1934 and 1935 programs, at a cost of $17,409,640; with 15.3 miles, costing $2,114,082, under construction.

Under the emergency relief appropriation act of 1935 allotments, 668.2 miles have been completed at a cost of $3,087,860; with 106.4 miles under construction, costing $2,451,252 and 3.1 additional miles approved for construction at an estimated cost of $700,306.

The government bears virtually the entire cost under the 1934 and 1935 program, as well as of the grade crossing elimination projects, Ryland explained, but under the 1936 and 1937, program matches dollar for dollar with the states. Ryland's figures showed that to November 1, under this program, 364.7 miles have been constructed at a cost of $2,645,970; with 264.7, costing $6,447,469, under construction and 141.7, to cost $2,810,227, approved for construction.

Even before the Louisiana Purchase, Daniel Boone and his family had established themselves in Warren County, where he was an official of the Spanish Government. In this as in many other counties of the east central group the towns and streams have many French names and French traditions while quite a few localities have a sprinkling of French descendants.

A total of 82 legal deer were shot in Missouri during the three-day open season. This was the smallest kill since 1933 when 65 deer tags were returned.

I KNOW that you folks here think just as much of Christmas as any other community. And you know, too, that the "Spirit of Christmas" always arrives on time, although it sometimes works a hardship on some. So I am offering you this suggestion:

Start saving Christmas Savings Stamps. You get one for every cash purchase of 10c, two for 20c, and soon. The leading merchants here listed are giving them. Patronize these merchants for your own benefit. Start today to save Christmas Savings Stamps. Fill the small book furnished you for the purpose and bring it to the bank below, which is acting as "Redemption Agent" for these stamps. The bank will credit any account you have or should care to open with $1.00; or if you so wish it, will pay you $1.00 in cash, subject to the Customer's Agreement in the stamp book. And just think! If you put this money in a Christmas Club or Savings Account, you will receive interest. This makes double interest: you get interest on what you spend and interest on what you save. Make all this possible by getting Christmas Savings Stamps at the stores listed at left.

half of the United States. He will reach New York by Christmas.

Mr. Ordover left here with a warning that the retail price of fur coats will rise 35 per cent during the coming season. "If a woman wants a fur coat, I urge her to buy now and save this difference," he said. "She can get her coat immediately, wear it before Christmas, and pay for it on our twelve-month budget plan."

Residents said they had never before seen such a complete stock of fur coats here as Mr. Ordover brought. Coats retailing at $59.50 to $500 hung on racks at Buckner Ragsdale's throughout Monday, the display featuring Persian lambs, squirrels, Jap minks, ponies, caraculs, Fitches, northern seals, Mendoza beavers, umbrellapin, and kidskins.

Styles also were varied, with swaggers, princesses, and tunics predominating, and many of the newer fashions in fur coat details were shown, including the Peter Pan, Ripple Johnny, airplane, and tulip collars and the balloon, bell, and Gibson Girl sleeves. Some models had fullness at the elbows and others were fashioned in the popular flair or swing or box styles. Fifth avenue and Vogue coats were among the distinctive collection.

At the Malone Sunday night, these young women modeled coats of their own choice while Mr. Ordover described them: Miss Sylvia Goldstein, Miss Hazel Young, Miss Lucille Adams, Mrs. Walter Ancell, Miss Neva Mae Taylor, Mrs. Robert Mow, Jr., Miss Rita Heisserer, and Miss Jane Mitchell.

Service Truck Catches Fire

Milem Limbaugh's Ford roadster service truck was slightly damaged late Monday night when it was set on fire by an overturned can of gasoline. The negro porter and Bob Dover were driving on West Malone avenue to Dover's car, which was without gasoline. Firemen put out the blaze before it had spread from the interior of the cab. Limbaugh said the damage did not exceed $5.

The Rev. Verne F. Oglesby will preach at morning and evening services of the Baptist church Sunday. Mr. Oglesby has been conducting revivals since he resigned in September as pastor of the Sikeston church.

Buckner-Ragsdale Company

SIKESTON

ONE MOMENT PLEASE

By Fay Kerr

As Thanksgiving day approaches and we again count our blessings, we should give thanks a little more humbly and gratefully this year than usual. We have manna, problems, personal and national, but we have more for which to be thankful than most people and most nations. We have a president with a great heart who covets nothing but the good-will of all nations. That should insure to us a peaceful administration. With Europe in the throes of war we might easily be drawn into the maelstrom. Let us be thankful that we have peace and let us offer an extra prayer for a continuance of peace.

In my reading I came across an article that interested me very much. It contained a number of things that most of us would consider trouble and affliction—yet this man gave thanks for those very experiences. There is much food for thought in the article.

A man's Thanksgiving: "God of common sense, I give Thee thanks for the heavy blows of pain that drive me back from perilous ways in to harmony with the laws of my being; for stinging whips of hunger and cold that urge to bitter strivings and glorious achievement; for steepness of the way and staunch virtues, gained by climbing over jagged rocks of hardship and stumbling through dark pathless sloughs of discouragement; for the acid blight of failure that has burned out of me all thought of easy victory and toughened my sinews for fiercer battles and greater triumphs; for mistakes I have made, and the priceless lessons I have learned from them; for disillusion and disappointment that have cleared my vision and spurred my desire; for strong appetites and passions and the power they give when under pressure and control; for my imperfections that give me the keen delight of striving toward perfection.

"God of common good and human brotherhood, I give Thee thanks for siren songs of temptation that lure and entangle and the understanding of other men they reveal; for the weaknesses and failings of my neighbors and the joy of lending a helping hand; for my own short-comings, sorrows and loneliness, that give me a deeper sympathy for others; for ingratitude and misunderstanding and the gladness of service without other reward than self-expression" — Arthur W. Newcomb.

Every experience can be turned to advantage if we have wisdom enough to take it for what it is worth. If it is detrimental to our development then we should be wise enough not to repeat the performance. If it is broadening and leads to more abundant living it should be cultivated. It isn't what happens to a man that makes or breaks him, but his reaction to it. This is a crowded world and we jostle others and must learn to take a little jostling ourselves. Better take the pokes in the ribs with a smile than to curdle the soul with dirty looks and ill feeling. Why should you and I have things soft? Are we anything special?

Downtown to Have Xmas Decorations by Saturday

The Senior Chamber of Commerce will decorate six downtown street intersections and 100 light standards for Christmas, Ernest Harper, chairman of a plans committee, announced at a chamber meeting Friday night.

The Kingshighway and New Madrid intersections with Malone, Front, and Center will be festooned with Balsam fir streamers and colored lights strung diagonally from building corners or polls and held in the centers with four-foot wreaths. The light standards will be wrapped with Balsam fir and the light globes will be covered with variously shaded celluloid. Legion park will have a large Christmas tree furnished and decorated by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

In addition, residents will be encouraged to enter a home decorations contest sponsored by the junior chamber. Fifty dollars in prizes will be awarded the winners.

Decorations for downtown were ordered last week end. Men will begin putting them up some time this week so that the entire display may be in place by Saturday.

Cairo men who aided the plans committee said Cairo will spend between $2000 and $3000 this year for decorations. Sikeston need spend only $550, the finance committee decided, and $300 of the total will be used to buy permanent decorations. By spending an equal amount for several years, Sikeston will have enough material to decorate all downtown corners and to string evergreen in rows across many of the streets. Fifty dollars of the money needed this winter will be used for residential decoration prize money.

Members of the senior chamber finance committee will begin this week to ask business and professional men for donations. Assessments will be based upon each one's ability to contribute and upon the relative benefit he will receive because of the decorations.

Vandals Smash Coffin Of Sikeston's Founder

Vandals recently smashed in the coffin of John Sikes by dropping the headstone of his grave onto it. The Standard learned Saturday. An oval glass and a fourth of the metal casket were broken. The stone lay on the remains of Sikes' body.

The Sikes' private burial is one situated south of Greer avenue and a block east of Kingshighway. Land owned by Taner Dye surrounds it.

The grave of John Sikes is the only one of several in the plot which is not covered with earth in the manner employed now for interment. Instead, the old-fashioned coffin—rounded on top, curved roughly in a body's shape, and fitted with an oval glass above the face—had been placed in a deep hole walled with brick. The lower sides of the coffin were imbedded in earth, and at the ground level far above, a marble slab closed the opened space. The headstone, reading "Father", stood at the head of the grave.

For many years, curious people have moved the slab frequently to look at the coffin and at Sikes' skull, visible through the glass, but never before had the grave been molested further.

The vandalism is undoubtedly the work of boys, and there is good reason to believe they lifted the headstone from its place, carried it a few feet, and dropped it onto the coffin rather than that the headstone became dislodged accidentally and fell.

The Standard's informant said the coffin had been smashed within the last ten days. Carpenters working on the new Tanner Dye home immediately north of the plot looked at the grave then. Persons who chanced to pass it Friday saw its present condition.

John Sikes is the town's founder, and members of his family were instrumental in developing Sikeston's commercial, civic, and social activities. Many persons believe the entire burial plot should be moved to one of the city's cemeteries, and since Mrs. C. A. Cook is the family's only close relative living here, they think the town either by popular subscription or through a city council action, should provide money to place the graves in safety. Civic leaders will be asked to endorse the suggestion.

Ellis Tells Kiwanians Origin of Thanksgiving

The Rev. D. D. Ellis, pastor of the Presbyterian church, spoke on the origin and history of Thanksgiving at a Kiwanis club dinner meeting held Friday night.

Thanksgiving is one of the few original and distinct American institutions, Mr. Ellis said, but by quoting passages in the old testament, he showed David had conceived Thanksgiving 1200 years before Christ's birth.

R. E. Patterson, Lonnie Standley, and James A. McCabe, members of a committee appointed by George W. Kirk, the club president, will plan programs for December meetings.

Mr. Kirk said Saturday that next Thursday night Jean Hirschberg, Clyde Akorn, and M. S. Tomerlin, new members introduced Friday, will be formally inducted into the club and be given their Kiwanis pins. A special program on Kiwanis education will be presented under the direction of the Rev. E. H. Orear, chairman of the Kiwanis education committee. The Rev. R. M. Talbert of Cape Girardeau, pastor of the Christian church here, will be a guest speaker.

Club members have tentatively decided to go to Kewanee December 10 to attend a dinner to be served by women of the Baptist church there. Their wives and friends will accompany them, and the club will give a program during the evening. Proceeds of the banquet will be used for payments on the new Kewanee Baptist church building.

Before adjourning, Kiwanians voted to endorse and support a week's preaching mission, which opened here Sunday.

Forestry Club Formed at Head School House

Louis Albrecht of Illmo, was selected as local leader of the Head 4-H Farm Forestry Club, which was organized at Head school house, Sunday, November 22.

The object of the forestry club is to give rural boys a working knowledge of the trees in their locality, together with an appreciation of the relative value of those trees in producing timber, crops; and to train members in leadership. The goals set up by the club require each member to identify twenty-five or more common forest trees found in Scott county. In addition, each member is required to collect leaves, fruit, and twigs of each tree identified and to mount and label them properly.

The club has eight members. More are expected to join at the next meeting, on December 6.

Officers of the club are: Gordon Albrecht, president; Harold Eifert, vice-president; Raymond Poss, secretary; treasurer; Herman Poss, reporter; and Garnett Al-

F. Shewbert Accused of Writing Bogus Check

A warrant charging Frank Shewbert of Morehouse with writing a worthless $175 check for the Boyer Auto Service was issued in Judge Joseph W. Myers' court Monday. Shewbert was in the city jail, where he was placed after his arrest Sunday night.

Ralph Tucker, a salesman for Boyer, said Shewbert wrote a $175 check Saturday as down payment on a 1936 Oldsmobile. Investigating Sunday, Tucker learned Shewbert had no account in the Bank of Morehouse, on which the check was written, and after trying to find Shewbert on a 600-acre farm near Canolou he said he managed, Tucker notified the patrol office.

Trooper Tandy discovered Shewbert had hidden here a week ago with Tom Scott, deputy warden at the state penitentiary, and was living with Maple Browning. With Tucker and Gid Daniels, Trooper Tandy went to the former Trousdale service station on West Malone to trace Browning, but just as the three arrived, Shewbert stopped the Oldsmobile beside the station.

Shewbert recently finished serving two years and ten months of a sentence for check forgery. Officers learned he had cashed a fraudulent $3 check at Carroll's service station Sunday night and were checking on the possibility that he was the man who recently bought merchandise at Buckner-Ragsdale's and gave in payment a $27.50 check forged on Harry Warren. He was to be taken to Benton if he could not fill a bond for his appearance at a preliminary hearing.

24 Will Get Football Letters; Co-Captains Named

Football squad members at a meeting Monday afternoon elected John Raymond Shuppert and Marvin Wyatt co-captains of the 1937 Bulldogs team.

Coach William E. Mahew released Monday the names of twenty-four men who have earned football letters for their playing during the 1936 season.

They are John Raymond Shuppert, Charles Beal, Woodrow Gwaltney, Paul David Allen, Stanley Woods, Sherman Grant, Douglas Taylor, Charles Rushing, Ben Bowman, G. B. Greer, Moore Greer, Jesse Cotton, Paul Bowman, Gene Grant, Bob Matthews, Harold Swanagan, Bob Dover, Ross Childress, Buddy Aldridge, Marvin Wyatt, C. Springs, Billy Golladay, Mack Roberts, and Charles Tanner.

Minor letters were won this year by John Webb Bowman, Roy Wagner, and Bill Van Horne. The letters will be awarded at an assembly letter this week.

A review of past performances shows Moore Greer has now won four major letters; Rushing, Beal, and Gene Grant, three each; and Cotton, G. B. Greer, Childress, Gwaltney, Shuppert, Allen, Sherman Grant, and Tanner, two each. In addition, Woods, Paul Bowman, Dover, and Bob Matthews, won minor letters last fall.

Coach Mahew will begin the 1937 season with experienced men since he will lose only eight by graduation. They are Woods, Taylor, Rushing, Ben Bowman, G. B. Greer, Moore Greer, Cotton and Childress.

Three Given Ten Years For Aiding In Jail Break

Wayne Furlong, John Knight, and Paul Moore were sentenced to ten years each in the penitentiary Monday when they pled guilty in circuit court to aiding in the escape of Claude McGee from the Benton jail November 17.

Furlong, Moore, McGee, Tom Allen, and Calvin Monroe, a negro, left the jail through a hole they dug in the wall after Moore released the others from a second floor cell block. He and Furlong were recaptured at noon the next day as they hid in the woods near Oran. No trace of the others has been found. McGee is under death sentence for killing W. T. Carlton at Gray's Point May 8, 1935.

STODDARD CONVICT DIES IN J. C. OF KNIFE WOUND

Eddie Guinzeay, a Stoddard county convict in the Missouri prison, was stabbed to death Sunday night by his cellmate, Clyde Shindler, whom he had stabbed in the back.

Tom Scott, the deputy warden, said Shindler took an improvised knife away from Guinzeay and stabbed him in the neck. Shindler's condition Monday was critical.

Guinzeay, 19, was serving a five-year term for felonious assault and attempted robbery. He was committed April 15, 1935.

DICK SWAIN MARRIED TO JEAN COMSTOCK

Miss Jean Comstock and Dick Swain, both of this city, were united in marriage at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Walton Friday night, November 27, with Judge H. A. Walton officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Jim Ellis Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Walton and Letty Weidemann were attendants.

Mrs. Swain, the daughter of Mrs. Alice Harris of Poplar Bluff, is associated with her sister, Mrs. Jim Ellis, in Thelma's Beauty Shop. Mr. Swain, a son of Al Swain, is a graduate of the Sikeston High School and for the past several months has been employed in the Model Barber Shop. The young couple will reside here in Sikeston.

"Sikeston will beat Charleston by a close score."—J. J. White.

Coach William E. Mahew's Bulldogs fulfilled a prophecy as they ended their 1936 season triumphantly Thursday afternoon with a 13-to-6 victory over the Blue Jays. It was the fourteenth time they have won the annual Thanksgiving day games. The score was the same as in 1934.

The large crowd that watched the teams fight on a snowy field were not certain of Sikeston victory until the last five minutes of play, when G. B. Greer gave the Bulldogs a lead with his second touchdown. His first, made early in the second quarter, had brought the squads to a 6-to-6 deadlock.

Charleston scored its only touchdown in the first period after DeFields recovered the Bulldogs' ball on the Sikeston thirty-five-yard line. A Sikeston penalty, line plunges by Babb, C. Wyatt, and Jones, and three passes, with Wyatt, Jones, Babb, and DeFields sending, and recovering, put the ball on the two-yard line; Babb carried it over on the next play, but Reeves failed to convert an extra point with a place kick.

The Bulldogs began their first drive to the goal late in the initial quarter, and again lateral passing aided them. Sikeston received a Charleston kick-off on its own fifteen-yard line, and immediately afterward, Moore and G. B. Greer, advanced the ball steadily. G. B. followed Moore's eleven-yard run around right end with gains of five, four, and six yards.

Moore made a three-yard gain, and then a lateral, G. B. to Moore Greer, gave the Bulldogs twenty-two yards and put the ball on the Blue Jay thirty-three-yard line as the period ended.

Moore Greer made four yards in two line plunges; the ball was advanced and then moved back as offside penalties were imposed against each team; and then G. B. Greer went off right tackle for ten yards. A spinner lateral—Moore to G. B. Greer to Rushing gave to G. B. Greer, and the ball was dangerously near the goal. G. B. gained four yards, Moore Greer plunged six yards to the one-yard line, and then G. B. carried the ball over for a touchdown. His place kick was not good.

Moore Greer again began Sikeston's march goalward in the last seven minutes when he intercepted a Charleston pass on the fifty-yard line. After Moore's gain, G. B. Greer went through left tackle for eight yards; Rushing then went off left tackle for twenty-five yards; and after a small loss, Moore Greer completed a pass to Cotton to put the ball on the six-yard line. Another small loss was regained when Charleston was penalized for being off sides, and from the four-yard line, G. B. Greer scored. His kick was good.

James H. Lewis paid his bet Friday morning by pushing David Cline to Morehouse in a wheel barrow. A crowd of motorists and bicycle riders watched the slow journey.

Farm Bureau Committee to Have Luncheon Today

The membership committee, with Roy Johnson as county captain will meet in Benton today, (Tuesday), according to Carl Luper, chairman. Plans for farm bureau membership will be discussed. Present plans include a dinner served at the Frobose cafe.

The farm bureau is a national farm organization for the purpose of forwarding agriculture. Each county organization is a part of the state and national federation. The farm bureau maintains a balanced program built by its membership, including extension work, co-operative activities in marketing, purchasing, rural electrification, and insurance, legislation with special reference to taxation transportation, education credits, national programs for agricultural, home and community activities designed to make the country a better place in which to live and to give opportunity for the development of the highest type of citizenship.

The Scott county farm bureau has been very active during the last year. In addition to forwarding extension work, the farm bureau organized a service company which as a part of program purchased a seed cleaning machine. It also rendered valuable assistance in securing a pure strain of seed cotton.

Mrs. George W. Steel Succumbs to Pneumonia

Mrs. George W. Steel, a native of New Madrid county, died of pneumonia at 2 o'clock Monday morning at her farm home near Matthews. She was 91 years old.

Mrs. Steel had been afflicted with arthritis of the spine for nineteen years but had been active. She did not contract pneumonia until Sunday morning although she had suffered from a severe cold.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2:30 this (Tuesday) afternoon at the home of a son, George D. Steel, 110 North Kingshighway. The Rev. T. J. Flanagan, pastor of the Church of the Immaculate Conception in New Madrid, will have charge. Burial will be in the Matthews cemetery.

Mrs. Steel, a daughter of Francis L. Moore and Jane McMullin Moore, was born April 4, 1855, Matthews. She was 91 years old.

Mrs. Steel had been afflicted with arthritis of the spine for nineteen years but had been active. She did not contract pneumonia until Sunday morning although she had suffered from a severe cold.

Mr. Steel died in 1906. Surviving Mrs. Steel are a daughter, Mrs. Caleb Matthews of Jonesboro, Ark.; two other sons, Francis Steel of New Madrid and Howard Steel, with whom she lived; a brother, LeRoy Moore of Ft. Madison, Ia.; and seven grandchildren. Albritton service.

Oglesby To Return As Baptist Minister

Members of the Baptist church congregation voted almost unanimously Sunday to call the Rev. Verne F. Oglesby as minister.

Mr. Oglesby, who accepted the pastorate again, and members of his family will move into the Baptist parsonage as soon as redecoration work is completed, possibly by the end of this week. The work of digging a basement under the house and installing a central heating plant will be started immediately. Mr. Oglesby will be here Sunday to preach at morning and evening services.

Mr. Oglesby left Sikeston in September to become an evangelist. Mrs. Oglesby and the children are living in Decatur, Ill.

There is a good deal of speculation as to what will become of the Republican party, since it appears there is barely enough of it left for seed. As we view the situation, there is in the United States the necessity for two political parties. One of these must be the party of the common people, the masses who earn their living by the labor of their hands and the product of their brains, people who build modest homes, raise families, support churches and schools, and who in fact and truth constitute the bone and sinew of the republic. This party has always been and is the Democratic party. It is not made up of the wealthiest people, though some wealthy ones are members of it; nor does it appeal primarily to the very wealthy on one hand nor the very ignorant, indolent and poverty-stricken on the other hand, but rather to the intelligent, self-reliant middle classes. The other party is composed of and dominated by the wealthiest classes, especially those who have enormous fortunes which were built up by the aid of special privileges acquired by forced or purchased legislation or secured by inheritance; people who consider themselves aristocrats, better than the common masses, and who believe—and some of them say—that the government should be first of all responsible to and controlled by themselves and the followers they select to direct the affairs of the government. These statements, in our own crude way of expression, mark the difference between the Democratic and Republican parties. And as the Republican leaders always have great financial means at their command and forceful methods of securing control when they are united, there is little room to doubt that they will soon line up their followers and renew desperate efforts to regain control.—West End Courier, Shreveport, La.

A commercial traveler visiting a large business office, jokingly boasted to the manager that he could pick out all the married men among the employees. He was challenged, and so he proceeded to demonstrate. He stationed himself at the door as the employees returned from the noon luncheon hour, and designated those whom he believed to be married. In almost every instance he proved to be right. "How do you know?" asked the manager in amazement, after the experiment. The answer was simple. "The married men wipe their shoes on the mat; the single men don't."—Jackson Cash Book.

HUNTERS WANT TO KNOW WHERE WILD TURKEYS ARE
St. Louis, Nov. 25.—"Where can I find a wild turkey?"

This question, now on the tip of every turkey hunter's tongue as the December open season looms ahead, is a tough one to answer, according to Harold L. Blakey, assistant conservationist of the U. S. biological survey, who has been making a special study of Ozark wild turkeys since last January. There may be a few other flocks scattered around, but Blakey's records, to date, show this once-abundant game bird now limited to twenty-eight counties in the Ozark region.

Any attempt to pin Blakey down to a statement on "how many" brings but one answer: "too few". In fact, they are so scarce that the biological survey efforts to study them have been seriously hampered. For one thing, Blakey would like to have several hundred wild turkey gizzards and craws (crops) to analyze the contents and find out what wild turkeys choose as food.

Therefore he is appealing to every hunter, who kills a wild turkey in Missouri this season, to send him the gizzard and craw, care of the Biological Survey, Federal Building, St. Louis. They can be sent in any small box or merely well wrapped, express collect or parcel post.

He also would like to have the other digestive organs, but these must be immediately placed in a weak solution of alcohol or formalin to preserve them. These are needed for study of parasites afflicting the Ozark birds.

MISSOURI HISTORY

Courtesy Missouri Historical Society

Judge John Rice Jones

Of a number of towering personalities in early Missouri history over whom the veil of obscurity has been largely drawn in proportion to their prominence is Judge John Rice Jones. Though scarcely more than mentioned in most Missouri histories, Jones was a prominent figure in the early history of three states of the West, was an outstanding member of the constitutional conventions of Indiana and Missouri, was dean of the bar of the old Northwest and the trans-Mississippi, was president of the legislative councils of Missouri and Indiana territories and was one of three judges of Missouri's first State Supreme Court. Strangely, among the probate records of Washington county is a receipt of $18.00 in part payment of Judge Jones' coffin. Yet it is not known where this prominent man is buried.

The European background of Judge Jones stands in marked contrast to his subsequent career in the West. Born of a distinguished Welsh family in Merionethshire, Wales, in the year 1759, Judge Jones was educated at Oxford and later took courses in medicine and law. In addition, a classical scholar, linguist and mathematician of marked ability, his brilliant education was later to make him the most learned and accomplished man among the forty-one delegates of the Missouri Constitutional Convention of 1820. In 1784, after a period of practicing law in London, Judge Jones emigrated to the United States to Philadelphia.

In Philadelphia, where he remained for two years, Jones knew personally Benjamin Franklin, D.L.R. Benjamin Rush and Meyers Fisher. In 1786, having heard much of the "wonderful Far West", he determined to go to Louisville, Kentucky. At Louisville, Jones joined the army of George Rogers Clark and assisted in the capture of Vincennes. Later he moved his family to the Northwest, became the first English-speaking lawyer of Indiana Territory, served as its first attorney general, as president of the legislative council and as a member of the state constitutional convention. In 1807, he assisted in the first revision of Indiana laws and in addition was a zealous promoter of Vincennes University and a member of its first board of trustees.

From an early day to the time of his removal in about 1810 to Ste. Genevieve, Louisiana, afterward Missouri Territory, Jones enjoyed an extensive and lucrative practice at law which extended on both sides of the river from Kahokia to Louisville. At the same time he amassed large holdings in land and in 1808 paid taxes on 16,400 acres in Marion county, Indiana, alone.

After his removal to Ste. Genevieve and a brief residence there and in St. Louis, Jones moved to mine a Breton in Washington county. Here he practiced law and engaged in lead mining with Moses Austin and became one of the richest men in the West. With Austin he gave the land upon which was laid out Potosi, the county seat, and in 1817 was made a trustee of historic Potosi Academy. Records indicate that in 1814 he was a member of the Second General Assembly of Missouri Territory, that in 1816 he was serving as president of the Territorial legislative council and that, two years later, he was one of a number of petitioners who sought the admission of Missouri to the Union.

When the Missouri Constitutional Convention met in St. Louis in 1820, Jones was present as a representative of Washington county. A forceful and eloquent speaker, he served on a number of important committees and was one of the seven principal authors of Missouri's famous "Barton Constitution." With David Barton, Duff Green, Edward Bates, and Henry Dodge, Jones has been judged one of the five foremost members of the Constitutional Convention. In addition, he was the dean of the Convention in point of age and intellect.

Jones lived to see Missouri's constitution in operation but four years. Yet, despite his age, he was named as a candidate for one of Missouri's first two United States senatorships. On November 7, 1820, he was appointed by Governor McNair to Missouri's first State Supreme Court. In this capacity he served with constructive force and was noted for his dissenting opinions; in 28 of approximately 140 cases he delivered the opinion of the court. In the passing of Judge Jones in St. Louis in 1824, Missouri suffered the loss of one of the "Fathers of the State." In recognition of his prominence and in honor of his memory, the St. Louis Bar wore mourning for thirty days.

Three sons, Rice Jones, John Rice Jones and George Wallace Jones, carried on the family name with distinction. The first, a brilliant lawyer in Kaskaskia, led in the fight for the separation of Illinois from Indiana Territory; John Rice Jones became of prominent in the public life of Texas while George Wallace Jones, the most prominent of Jones' three sons, is closely identified with the early history of Michigan, Wisconsin and Iowa.

COLLET FAVORED AS NEW FEDERAL JUDGE IN MISSOURI

Jefferson City, Nov. 23.—State Supreme Court Judge John Gaske Collett is being mentioned for appointment to the United States district judgeship for Missouri, which was recently created. Collett's name has been mentioned to "Boss" Tom Pendergast of Kansas City.

Gov. Guy B. Park has been considered for the appointment for some time, but it is reported President Roosevelt favors a

The appointment rests largely with United States Senator Bennett Champ Clark, who is understood to favor Boyle Clark of Columbia or Col. Carl Ristine of Lexington.

McEWIN AND WELCH WIN ROUGH MATCHES

Wrestling matches alike in that they both lasted three rounds and both began tamely and ended rough pleased fans Wednesday night.

Billy McEwin won the preliminary from the entertaining Lee Meyers, taking the first fall in thirteen minutes with kangaroo kicks and a body straddle and the third in six minutes in the same manner. Meyers used a Jim London toe hold to down McEwin in eight minutes in the second round.

Roy Welch had a harder time before winning his match from Ernie Dugan, who calls himself the Gorilla. Early in the first fall, Dugan wore Roy down with a series of damaging head locks.

Roy managed to escape and applied a hammerlock, which Dugan broke by going to the ropes. Roy won the fall, though, after eighteen minutes with flying tackles and a body pin and took the third in seven with an Irish whip. Dugan got the second fall in twelve minutes by applying a crab hold after wearing Roy out with a series of body slams.

Dugan frequently made faces and went to the ropes so often that Roy once twisted his body in them and kicked him. Later Dugan threw Roy into the ringside. On Wednesday, Roy will have a return match with Johnny Larue to atone for Larue's action in rubber.

NEW MADRID COUNTY SCHOOL NEWS

By Milus R. Davis

Mrs. Grace Chandler, teacher of Sugar Tree School, gave a box supper on the night of November 13 and made a net of $30.00.

A program and box supper was given at Barnes Ridge on November 20. Mary Wilson of Deventer is the teacher.

Mrs. Alma Skaggs of Cade reports a program and box supper on November 23.

On November 25, Gladys Karr of Union Grove is to have a Thanksgiving program and box supper.

Supt. J. W. Huckstep of Matthews reported a community fair last Saturday in which exhibits of school work and farm products were displayed and ribbons awarded to winners. The event was concluded with a carnival that night.

On the night of December 1 a program and pie supper will be given at Pharris Ridge. William Deane of Matthews is the teacher and is now serving the seventh year in that position.

Section 9270 of the School Laws prohibits agents from soliciting teachers during school hours, also for one-half hour before school convenes and for one-half hour after school is dismissed. Yet every year we find young teachers who have been imposed on by agents. In some cases they browbeat the teacher and intimidate them by inferring that they are not progressive unless they purchase the proffered wares, even when they are priced exorbitantly.

In case teachers are cheated, they need have no hesitancy in returning the material for the company cannot insist on collection when the agent has violated Section 9270 in making the sale. Our advice to teachers is this: Do not buy anything on the spur of the moment. Sleep over a proposition before you act. You can mail your order two weeks later if you finally decide that you are making a good buy. Investigate before you invest.

If you do not want to talk to an agent, courteously tell him that you are not interested and go ahead with your work. Then if they attempt to disregard your wishes, utilize some of your mule-driving language and warn them to read Section 9270.

Sometime agents suggest that their wares are recommended by the county superintendent. But you can mark this down in your little red book: I make my recommendations direct to teachers and school boards and need no agents to act as carrier pigeons.

Miss Sybil Spain of Booneville, Mississippi, has been employed to teach commercial subjects and English in the Marston High School to succeed Mary Hoffman of Cape Girardeau who resigned.

The construction of the new high school building at Parma is progressing nicely, the walls of the first story being already completed. The walls are made of concrete blocks with a layer of bricks on the outside. The steps will be of steel and the halls have concrete floors making them fireproof. The building will be heated by conditioned air. This is a PWA project which will cost about $26,000.00, the local district paying about $15,000.

Section 9433 requires children between the ages of 7 and 16 to attend school regularly until they graduate from the eighth grade. During the cotton picking season, school boards have been lenient but now they are beginning to check up on pupils who are absent. Poor attendance affects the state aid causing a loss of thousands of dollars. Then, too, if our democracy is to succeed the citizens must be educated so they can keep up with governmental affairs and be able to distinguish propaganda from vital facts. In our system of government the original and fundamental power is placed in the hands of the people and they must know how to handle this power wisely.

MURDERED MAN'S WIDOW APPEALS WCC RULING

Judge Frank Kelly took under advisement Wednesday Flora Carlton's appeal from a workmen's compensation commission ruling denying her compensation for the death of her husband, W. T. Carlton, at Gray's Point May 8, 1935.

The commission rejected her claim against Berryman Henwood, receiver for the Cotton Belt railroad, on the ground that Carlton was not working for the Cotton Belt at the time robbers murdered him. Mrs. Carlton contended in circuit court Wednesday that since her husband pumped water continuously for the railroad he was employed by it at the time.

Sometimes it's hard to tell whether a torn and tattered girl has been knocked down by a motorist—or picked up by one.

On one of the picture sections of a St. Louis paper Saturday appeared the picture of a young woman showing a lamb standing on a table. The young woman was seated by the table and in addition to the lamb she was showing a pair of very shapely legs. A good deacon who saw the picture remarked that it was like a rainy day, he would like to see it clear up.

DOVER WINS HONORABLE MENTION FOR GRID WORK

Joe Dover, a freshman at Central College in Fayette, Mo., won honorable mention on the Associated Press M. C. A. U. 1936 star football listings, chosen with the aid of conference coaches. Dover played end on the Central College team this season.

Players of William Jewell and Missouri Valley, the co-champions, of Tarkio, the runner-up, took all places on the first all-star football team. Two Central men made the second team.

ENTERTAINED AT DINNER

Oglesby and two daughters, Miss Amelda and Miss Nancy, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Carson, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hedden, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. A. Macabee and Miss Grace Estes.

FAMILY DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Carroll entertained with a family dinner Thanksgiving, at their home on Prosperity. Covers were laid for the guests, Judge and Mrs. W. L. Carroll, Miss Laura Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Carroll, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Hulen of St. Louis, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Myers and family of Canolou.

Moore Greer Makes Missourian's Star Team

Moore Greer was the only Sikeston Bulldog who won a place on The Cape Girardeau Southeast Missourian's district all-star football team. He was placed at halfback.

Unlike other years, The Missourian's board of selection made no distinction between made and non-conference teams but grouped the fourteen together. Greer was one of two non-conference players who made the first eleven. The other was Lumsden of Matthews.

Cape Central had six men on the all-star team; Jackson, two and Charleston, Sikeston, and Matthews, one each. The Bulldogs had no man on the second team but these players were given honorable mention: Beal, end; Grant, tackle; and Rushing, and G. B. Greer, backs.

THREE BULLDOGS ON P. B. ALL-STAR ELEVEN

non-conference mythical. Seven a tabulation of district coaches rankings shows.

Arkanas, Wednesday and Thursday.

For Mr. Rich, New York gourmet, the price situation holds a dark cloud. Caviar has been going up; it costs about $2 a pound more today than it did a few months ago. Although there are cheaper varieties, a popular caviar in New York City sells at $12 for fourteen ounces. But other delicacies, so far, have shown no price changes. Cocks' combs, for example, are still retailing at $2.70 per half pound.

imported goose-breast can be had for $3 a pound, and snails are stable at $1.15 per seven ounces. —The Literary Digest.

Automobile production continues to increase. For the week ending November 14 production totaled 104,248 cars, says Cram's Reports, Inc. This compares with 83,982 in the preceding week and 85,075 in the corresponding week a year ago.

RISE IN FOOD PRICES EXPECTED THIS WINTER

Most conservative estimates of the anticipated rise in retail food prices range from 5 to 10 per cent. Whatever it may be, it probably will assert itself definitely in December 1. Back of it, keyed directly to the extra pennies that Mrs. Jones will be obliged to lay on the counter, are several great economic forces. Crop restriction, the drought last summer and increased summer-spending power, the two cut the supply, the first boosted the demand. Result, a price jump.

The greatest percentage of increase is looked for in beef, pork, butter and eggs; the least in canned goods and frozen foods. Bakers do not anticipate an advance in bread, but cake probably will go up.

Taking the situation at its worst by accepting the 25 per cent upward trend in beef and pork prices forecast by government experts, the bad news for the housewife would run, nationally, about like this:

Sirloin steak, 50 cents a pound, instead of the present 40 cents; round steak, 43 or 44 a pound instead of the present 35 cents; chuck roast, 27 or 28, instead of the present 22; pork chops, 48 or 49, instead of present 39; bacon, 50 cents, instead of 40.

But this forecast of a 25 per cent rise in beef and pork prices is a maximum; it may be wrong. Those who budget sharply and watch the pennies need not despair. The experts emphasize that the biggest increase will be on choicer cuts; the dietitians are always ready to leap in with suggested substitutes.

Some solace can be found also in the fact that for general foods only a moderate price rise is in prospect. There are two reasons for this. One is keen competition, which tends to keep prices in line. The other is that a rise of 1 or 2 cents in a retail price will cause the buying public to ignore it, turn to a substitute.

To Business and Professional Men of Sikeston back is caused by the hessian fly. Wheat infested in the fall is stunted in growth, the leaves of the plant take on a dark bluish green color, become distinctly thickened, and stand more erect. The central growing shoot is often lacking. The injury is caused by the larvae or maggots, which draw the sap from the lower parts of the stem. Heavily infested plants generally die during the winter.

PATTERSON-WILLIAMS WEDDING ANNOUNCED

Announcement has been made here of the marriage of Miss Gladys Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Williams of Morehouse, to Mancel Patterson, son of Rev. and Mrs. Hillary Patterson of Portageville, which was solemnized at Benton on October 25. TWO HURT WHEN CARS COLLIDE NEAR MALONE

Mrs. Frank Carter was slightly hurt Sunday morning when her car and one driven by Otis Godwin of Matthews collided near the intersection of Malone avenue and Stoddard street. Shattered glass cut Mrs. Carter's ear and Mrs. Godwin's face. Mrs. Carter's back was wrenched.

Mrs. Carter was going to Sunday school at the time, and the Godwins were on the way to Morehouse.

L. B. PATTERSON STRUCK BY HIT-AND-RUN DRIVER

Lawson B. Patterson suffered injuries to his hip and right arm Saturday evening when he was hit on Malone avenue by a car, the driver of which failed to stop. Mr. Patterson was walking to town and was standing at the curb of Malone and Scott when a westbound Ford V-8 traveling about sixty miles an hour swerved onto the south side of Malone to pass another machine.

Mr. Patterson's hip was struck and a small tab on the car was driven deep into his arm. He was stunned, but soon recovered sufficiently to go to Dr. G. W. Presnell's office, where he was treated. He was resting at his home Monday.

LARGE CCC PROJECT NEAR COMPLETION

New Madrid, Mo., Nov. 24.—The largest project started by the CCC camp here since the start of drainage maintenance work by the Emergency Conservation Work program under the Bureau of Agriculture, will be completed in a few weeks. This rehabilitation is being done in Drainage District No. 28 of this county. Clearing of the right of way has been completed and it is expected the ditch cleanup work will be finished this week. The remaining work will consist of reconstruction of approximately 30 miles of fence along with a small amount of brush burning and bridge repairing.

Work on this project began in November, 1935. Over four and a half million square yards of clearing has been done and more than one million cubic yards of soil and silt removed from the ditches in clearing out and enlarging the drainage system. Sixteen thousand man days of labor have been required for the work.

Marvin Hurt Writes of Rock Island

Rock Island, Ill., Nov. 24, 1936.
Mr. Chas. Blanton, Sr.
Sikeston, Mo.
Dear Sir:

In behalf of all the Sikeston boys here in Rock Island and the tri-Cities, I take pleasure in writing to you and giving you what news that are in my possession and tell you what all of us are doing as near as possible.

To begin with, I'll tell you about the boys who stay here where I work.

There are five of us boys who stay here all the time, that is we have rooms here and we also board here, there is Roscoe Gray, Ernest Shanks, Charles (Jelly Bean) Litchford, Robert (Gabe) Henley, and myself, I work here at the "Buffalo Tavern," and have for the past two months.

Roscoe Gray works at the Illinois Wholesale Grocery Co., here in Rock Island, he holds the position of stock room man, he has been steadily employed there since he came up here and is very well thought of by his employers.

Ernest Shanks is working for a construction company which has the contract to build a large Armory here in R. I. This Armory is located on the very banks of the Mississippi river here, just below the locks and dam, and also below the site of the famous Fort Armstrong, which over looks the river, just west of the Rock Island Arsenal where guns and other equipment for the Army are manufactured. On the island on which the Arsenal is located is a famous clock tower which over looks the river and all the government buildings and machine shops, facing the clock tower on the north is Davenport, Iowa. On the south and west Rock Island, and on the east, Moline, Ill.

This letter will be all jumbled up but you can straighten it out in your mind (I guess) after you've read it. Ha ha. Now to get back to the boys, Charles (Jelly Bean) Litchford, he also has been staying here since he and Robert (Gabe) Henley arrived here one evening not so long ago. Jelly has had two or three jobs since he came up here, he worked at a produce house here for a while also shoveled coal a few days, at present he isn't doing any thing except acting screwy, (as usual) he keeps us laughing all the time when he is around here.

Robert (Gabe) Henley, formerly an attendant at Vernon Kelly service there at home is plying that same trade here with the "Pure Oil Co." of R. I. and seems to have a good steady job. Gabe never has much to say but he is a darn good fellow, and does he ever like his grape-nuts? And how, he darn near eats them three times a day, personally, I sometimes think maybe he eats them to try to be like, Dizzy Dean or who ever it is that the Postum Co. uses in their advertising.

There is about 6 or 7 of the boys here tonight in Roscoe Gray's room playing music on a guitar, mouth harp, Roscoe plays the guitar Jelly plays the harp and Ernest Shanks is trying to use a pair of spoons to play on a bunch of beer bottles which contain water each bottle has a different amount of water in it to get the desired effect, ha ha.

Claud Atinip is here tonight also the boy who was in the car wreck when Bob Jackson was killed, his first name is Cecil, and I've forgotten his last name so skip it.

(Cecil Wallace)

Charles Porter and his bride to be were in here this afternoon and had lunch. Chas. has quite a crush on.

Lee Oliver of Sikeston is here also, and if I've got the news straight he is about to take the vows also.

Lee works at the R. I. Sash and Door Works.

Buster Twitty works at the International factory here, not a shoe company but the motor and Farm Implement Co.

Ralph Stephens is also here he works at the R. I. Sash and Door Works. Boots Couch works on the night shift at the R. I. Sash and Door Works.

Lacy (Blackie) Williams has a steady job with the Illinois and Iowa Roofing Co. here in R. I. and is doing good he also has his wife and son here with him.

Jones Lacy, works at the International Harvester Co., and has a good job. The International Harvester Co., employs approximately 5000 people from R. I. and surrounding cities and towns.

The R. I. Sash and Door Works of R. I. employs approximately 800 to 1000 persons on each of two shifts.

Willis Patrick of Sikeston is employed by the Lerman Truck Lines of R. I. and is doing good.

I guess you know or have heard of "Jargo" who used to work for Bill Jones. He is holding down a job at the Sash and Door Works and is now making more than 50c a day, now that he isn't working for Bill, and he, not being used to having much money while working for Bill doesn't hardly know how to act on pay day and I think he misses Buddy Jones' cussings.

And before I forget it, Roscoe Gray (Better known as Roscoe the wild Australian snake eater and wild man) received the glad news to day that his divorce from his wife Miss Wanda Browning had been granted and he was so overcome and nervous from the shock he had to have a nice strong shot of spirits to revive him sufficient to enable him to go back to work this afternoon.

Ernest Shanks who works for the Coath & Goss Const. Inc., of Chicago, can't seem to get caught up with his letter writing to his sweet sugar doll who is in Sikeston, he said he couldn't make much money, I mean can't have much left on pay day for his stamp and writing paper bill runs so high he don't have enough left to buy a good cold bottle of beer. He gets an average of 2 to 3 letters a day from Miss Cornelia Davis of Sikeston every day, its enough to get the poor boy down.

Orville Allen of Sikeston who was up here for about 10 or 12 days couldn't stay away from Paul Rankin of Sikeston so it seems, and he simply had to go back to Sikeston.

Well I guess I've said enough for one time so I'll stop talking about the boys and thank you for the flowers you sent to my sister Muri Hurt, she wrote to me and sent the clipping out of the paper about you giving the flowers to her, and she sure does appreciate it and so do my mother and I.

Mr. Blanton there is about 200 manufacturing concerns here in Rock Island and tri-cities, there is plenty of work and good pay. And I don't think there is but 2 or 3 boys from down here who are up here who isn't working and doing good, the construction company that Ernest Shanks works for has not only got the contract for the construction of the $400,000.00 Armory here but also has a contract for the million dollar high school which is also under construction—here.

The work on the high school began about last March, is expected to be finished about February or March next year. There are about 200 men employed on the school. And about 100 men on the Armory which is just nearing completion.

Oh, Yes, Ernest Shanks just told me that Charles Porter has already got himself married (Murdered) and that the reason he took the fatal step was because he got a raise of about $2.00 per week and he thought $2.00 was sufficient to keep a wife on ha ha. Well as I can't think of any more gossip I'll close for this time and all the boys who know you (who doesn't) hopes you print this, and send us a copy of the paper with the subscription rate for a year and we are all chipping in together and are going to have you send us the paper for 1 year, since your paper is the best in Scott county and all of us think so.

We will be looking forward to hearing from you by return mail and if any news of what we boys are doing will be of interest to you, you let us know and I'll see that you get it every week.

Wishing you and Mrs. Blanton the best of health and a Merry Thanksgiving, I'll close.—Your Sikeston Friends and Marvin Hurt.

TWO KILLED IN HEADON CRASH NEAR ST. LOUIS

Mr. and Mrs. Roy J. Cope, former residents of Malden, Gid-eon, and Hornersville, were killed Thursday afternoon when their car crashed headon with another machine on a highway near St. Louis. Their two young children were seriously injured.

The Copes were on the way from their home in Mountain Grove to St. James, where they intended to witness a football game. Mrs. Cope was killed instantly, and her husband died soon afterward in a St. James hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. John Edwin of Metropolis, Ill., their two children, and John Purviance, occupants of the other car, suffered painful injuries.

The bodies were taken to Malden, where funeral services were held Sunday. Mr. Cope is survived by his mother, Mrs. Martha Cope of Cape Girardeau; three brothers, Dr. E. G. Cope and O. J. Cope of Hornersville and A. J. Cope of Kirkwood; and three sisters, Mrs. L. E. Tedrick of Poplar Bluff, Mrs. Virginia Anderson of Cape Girardeau, and Mrs. I. C. Darfield of Tulsa, Okla.

Mrs. Cope's mother, Mrs. Betty Corder, lives in Malden. She is also survived by five brothers, El, Curtis, and James Corder of Malden, Ernest Corder of Illinois, and Shirley Corder of Detroit.

3 HELD FOR MURDER OF NEW MADRID NEGRO

A. D. Daugherty, a New Madrid negro, is being held in the New Madrid county jail charged with the murder of Luster Williams November 19, and his brothers, Williams and Odell, are held with him as accomplices. Williams, a negro sharecropper on the Arch Culbertson farm a half mile north of New Madrid, was found late at night with a deep stab wound in the right side of his chest. He had bled to death.

According to a confession A. D. is said to have made, Williams tried to fight but A. D. refused because Williams was drunk. Williams insisted, however and after following A. D. outdoors, Williams again accosted him. A. D. said he threw away the knife he used.

SCIENTIST SAYS INDIAN ANCESTRY THEORY IS UPHELD BY EXPLORERS

St. Louis, Nov. 26.—The contention the ancestors of the American Indian came to this continent from Asia by way of the Alaskan region is supported by recent explorations in Kodiak Island, Alaska, where the only human skeletons found were those of Indians, Dr. George A. Seib, assistant professor of anatomy, Washington University School of Medicine, told a meeting of the St. Louis Academy of Science last night. The meeting was held in Wilson Hall Washington University.

Dr. Seib was a member of the 1935 expedition of the United States National Museum in Washington, under the direction of the famous anthropologist, Dr. Ales Hrdlicka, who since 1931 has been carrying on the excavation of an extensive ancient village site on Upak Bay Kodiak Island. Excavations were made on this island because, after a preliminary survey of hundreds of old settlements, it was found it was one of the largest and most accessible places found and was of considerable antiquity, he said.

Among the finds were partially burnt broken stones used by the natives in taking sweat baths, several finely carved human portraits in ivory and bone, some of which had definitely "mongoloid" features, Dr. Seib related. Stone lamps, slate knives, slate and bone harpoon points, bone chisels, complicated fish hooks were also found, as well as the bones of many animals, he added.

Numerous burials were found in the deposits and examination of the skeletons gave evidence of two different peoples, both of medium stature but of different head shape, who had occupied the region, he declared. The earlier group, dating back about 2000 years, were long-headed and have their counterpart in the Fraser River, Shoshone and California Indians, while the later people, who appeared on the scene about 400 years ago, were round-headed, resembling the Indians of the Northwest coast.

LOWDEN FARM IN ARKANSAS NEGRO COLONY

Hot Springs, Ark.—Dr. J. B. Watson, president of Arkansas Mechanical and Normal College for Negroes, announced today that a 13,000 acre plantation owned by former Gov. Frank O. Lowden of Illinois would be converted next year into Arkansas' first privately sponsored negro farm colony.

The negro educator said 150 families—mostly sharecroppers from Arkansas, Louisiana and Mississippi—would be moved to the plantation near Gould in the southeast Arkansas delta section.

The colony will be managed by Dr. Watson and three negro farmers.

The college president said Lowden from Arkansas, Louisiana and much more reasonable than those paid by the Resettlement Administration for its tracts in this state.

The plantation will be divided into 20-acre plots. Colonists may purchase one or more tracts.

Lowden operated the South Bend plantation for nearly two decades, and before the 1927 floods it was known as one of the richest in the south. The Arkansas river swept a heavy layer of silt over part of the acreage that year and some farmers regarded the plantation's value as seriously impaired.

"That was a mistake," Watson said. "That silt formed a protective layer for the soil and alfalfa planted on it this year produced a bumper crop."

"Mrs. Lowden is very interested in this experiment and has been of great assistance to us."

FRANCES WELCH WED TO MURRIE LINN FARRIS

The marriage of Miss Frances Welch to Murrie Linn Farris took place at 11:30 Thursday morning at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Welch, 510 East Gladys street. Mr. Farris is a son of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Farris.

The living room, where the Rev. E. H. Orear read the service, was decorated with mixed cut flowers, including asters and chrysanthemums.

The bride wore a navy blue taffeta gown and a corsage of pink tea roses. Her accessories were black. Miss Lucille Moll, her attendant, wore a navy sports dress and a small corsage of red roses. Ben F. Carroll, Jr., was Mr. Farris' groomsmen.

Immediately after the wedding, Mr. and Mrs. Welch entertained members of the bridal party at a Thanksgiving dinner. Mr. and Mrs. Farris are at home temporarily at the residence of the bridegroom's parents, 213 Ruth street.

Before her marriage, Mrs. Farris was a member of the high school senior class. Mr. Farris was graduated from the Skeston high school in 1934. He is now associated with his father at the Fair grocery.

NEW FURNACE INSTALLED AT THE DIAMOND TAVERN

A new Master furnace has been installed at the Diamond tavern on Highway 61, Paul Jones, the owner, announced yesterday. The furnace heats the entire tavern, including the large dance floor and forms the central part of one of the largest and most complete hot air heating plants operated in Southeast Missouri.

OFFICER HURT WHEN CAR GOES OVER EMBANKMENT

Deputy Sheriff George Smart of New Madrid and Mrs. Lillie Abbott were slightly injured last week in an automobile accident on Highway 61 five miles north of Benton.

Smart was taking Mrs. Abbott to the state hospital at Farmington. As he started to pass a truck, the driver ahead suddenly signaled and turned left into a crossroad. Trying to avoid an accident, Smart swerved right, but his left front fender hit the truck and his car went down a fifteenfoot embankment.

Mrs. Abbott suffered a laceration on her forehead, and Smart sustained minor cuts and a bruised chest. From a Cape Girardeau hospital, where they were rushed for treatment, Sheriff Sam Harris took Mrs. Abbott on to the hospital and returned home with Smart.

Damage to the car was placed at $100.

MRS. DAL HARNES' FATHER DIES IN CAPE HOSPITAL

O. E. Stevens, the father of Mrs. Dal Harnes, died at 6 o'clock Friday evening at the Southeast Missouri hospital in Cape Girardeau. He was taken to the hospital November 18 after gangrene had developed in a toe wound. He had suffered with diabetes for several years.

Funeral services were conducted at 2:30 Sunday afternoon at Harnes' funeral home in Cape Girardeau. Interment was in a Cape Girardeau cemetery.

Mr. Stevens was 77 years old. A native of Arkansas, he farmed for many years on a tract near Poca-hontas, Cape Girardeau county. Ten years ago he retired and came here to live at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dal Harnes.

Besides his daughter, Mr. Stevens is survived by a son, Glenn Stevens of Cape Girardeau; another daughter, Mrs. A. B. Carpenter of St. Louis; a sister, Mrs. Snider of Jackson; and three grandchildren, including Mrs. Arthur Lockhart and Virgil Harnes of Skeston.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. H. Cole and daughters, Miss Alma Lou, Miss Lois and Miss Marion Elizabeth, of Jonesboro, Ark., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Schwieter, Wednesday and Thursday. Mrs. Schwieter is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cole.

ONE MOMENT PLEASE

By Fay Kerr

While wondering just what to write, a million thoughts come rushing into my mind. But a newspaper can't print thoughts. Thoughts must be captured and put into words. Words must be shaped into sentences. When a thought is expressed—spoken or written—it no longer belongs to the individual but becomes the property of all who hear or read it.

It is easy to underestimate the important of thought. "As a man thinketh in his heart, so is he." Thoughts alone won't save any situation or solve any problem unless the thinking generates some sort of action. Everybody has kind and generous thoughts at times, even the worst of us. It is very much easier to think about doing something kind and generous than to really do something.

If people would only do the things they really plan to do, but never get around to them, we would have a much happier world. Our trouble is not mental sluggishness but physical laziness. A generous thought may elevate the thinker for the moment—as a passing breeze may catch a falling leaf and waft it heavenward—but it soon falls to earth to disintegrate. Thoughts and leaves have no power within themselves to continue flight. It doesn't matter so much what you think about it but what you mean to do about it.

Man is superior to other animals because he is capable of creative thought. Our future progress depends entirely on this kind of thinking. If man can be aroused to use his leisure to stimulate his thinking we may look forward to a period of real culture. If man continues to use his leisure to make more and bigger Whoopee, an eighteen-hour work day with plenty of hard labor would do him more good than added hours of play. Leisure may be a Frankenstein that will rise up and destroy us unless we do a little more planning and provide something constructive to fill the leisure hours. The University of Iowa has done something about it. Let us hope that other schools and communities will follow its example and provide amusement halls with all the glitter and attractions of the present night clubs but with none of the undesirable qualities.

EDUCATION WEEK TO BE OBSERVED DEC. 6 TO 12

American education week will be observed December 6 to 12 in Missouri schools since the regular week in November for the celebration conflicted with the meeting of the State Teachers Association.

The general theme for education week is 1936 is "Our American Schools at Work."

The material furnished by the National Education Association for American education week may be secured now and adapted to local situations for Missouri education week. Such material may be secured from the National Education Association, 1201 Sixteenth Street, N. W., Washington, D. C., and from E. M. Carter, secretary of the Missouri State Teachers Association, Columbia, Missouri.

DR. T. S. SMYLIE TO RESIGN BY MARCH 1

Dr. Theodore S. Smylie, president of the St. Louis ministerial alliance, announced Sunday that he would resign as pastor of the Central Presbyterian church in St. Louis not later than March 1. His decision was made because of opposition to his pastorate. Dr. Smylie conducted a brief revival at the Skeston Presbyterian church in September.

The pastor's unpopularity among members of the boards of elders and deacons exists, it is said, because of the church's financial condition and an unannounced point in theology.

In telling his congregation that a meeting scheduled to be held after services Sunday for a vote of members on his resignation had been postponed, Dr. Smylie said there were "those who will want to know, and have a right to the knowledge, just where this action is postponing the congregational meeting leaves the situation. The situation is unchanged."

"Because of certain opposition to my pastorate, which has become manifest in the two boards of officers and because of the heavy debt under which the church has been struggling, I told the officers of the church last spring that I would resign not later than March 1, 1937," Dr. Smylie said.

"The opposition is unchanged. My promise will be carried out to the letter and in the spirit. I shall cease my duties as pastor not later than March 1, and my request for the official action of the St. Louis Presbytery will be in the hands of the clerk of the Presbytery one day this week. A copy of my resignation to the Presbytery will be in the hands of the clerk of the Session this week. The session is at liberty to call a meeting at any time it may desire to have the congregation act upon it."

The church was built in 1931 at a cost of $328,000, and with an outstanding indebtedness now of $275,000, interest payments have been large. The church has about 850 members.

NOT A KICK IN A MILLION FEET

THE P. C. EDITOR SAYS—

The Baptist Ladies will serve a turkey dinner in the basement of their church Thanksgiving for 50 cents from 11 o'clock until 1:30. Tables can be reserved by phoning either, Mrs. James Mocabee or Mrs. Milem Limbaugh.

Before his death Hardy Williams placed his watch with some one for a loan but left behind no memorandum and the family would be glad to redeem same if the holder will notify this office or Virgil Williams, the son.

Both Senior and Junior Chambers of Commerce are backing a proposition to secure decorations in keeping with the enterprise of Sikeston for the Christmas holidays and will ask merchants, tradesmen, and others interested in bringing more people to Sikeston, to contribute as liberal as possible to make our streets look as attractive as possible, and to have the electrical displays of a permanent nature to be used year after year. Key up your pride and subscribe liberally.

Mrs. Blanton expects to arrive in Sikeston Sunday on the Frisco from Washington D. C., and other points. We are having the house given a thorough going-over, in order that nothing suspicious will be found. She says nothing about her health which we believe must be much improved.

The Malone picture house was jammed and packed Monday night to witness the damned exhibition ever shown in Sikeston and we hope the like will never occur again. Just how Deacon Will Hayes ever let it get by without deleting certain parts is a strange thing and the only way we could think he did it was because in his old age and senility it looked good to him. "The Streets of Paris" shown at the Texas Centennial was the first on the list and the first eye-full was a young woman stark naked from waist up that exhibited a pair of breasts that could have furnished sufficient nourishment for all five of the Dionne babies and had some left. Then followed a bevy of shapely girls behind transparent parols, brassieres, wearing fig leaves the size of two hands. Then a girl who had a big apple to hide her from the eye, did some plain and fancy twisting for the edification of the populace. The real climax of "The Streets of Paris" was the girl with the black lace shawl who seemed to be proud of her shape for the grand climax came when the shawl dropped from her body showing a three quarter front view—and no fig leaf. What was supposed to be the feature film gave an insight of a narcotic ring that might have had a good moral if the scene "The Decadent Cafe" had been cut. In this part of the film had some of the nastiest and most suggestive body twistings that we hope to never see again. We wondered just what young couples thought of this entire night entertainment, for we were ashamed of ourself and some married folks, as we left the show house said they were ashamed that we saw them there. We are not blaming the owners and manager of the show house for the films, because they know nothing of the contents of the reel until it is flashed on the screen.

Robert Mow, Jr., is now associated with the Bank of Sikeston reporting for duty Monday morning to the bookkeeping department. He is a mighty fine young man and the Bank is fortunate in securing his services and Robert is fortunate to be associated with this financial institution.

From Parma comes a nasty bunch of verse sent to the editor by some one signing the name of Jack Denton. He says "The is no offense to you as a man for we think you are a gentleman and a splendid editor and as a politician 100 per cent jackass." We take it, he is, or has been a Republican.

One of the nicest acts we have had come under our notice for a long time was that performed by Superintendent Ellise of the Sikeston School who called on Muriel Hurt, the invalid, then called Coach Marshall of Charleston and got permission to park Muriel's car at one of the goals where she can see much of the game. This was mighty fine.

Sr. Chamber to Decorate Downtown for Christmas

A decision to decorate downtown Sikeston property for Christmas was made at a Senior Chamber of Commerce meeting Tuesday night.

Only tentative ideas for decorations were outlined Tuesday, but members of finance and plans committees appointed by W. E. Hollingsworth, the president, will make definite recommendations at a second meeting in the Del Rey hotel at 7:30 Friday night. All business men are urged to attend.

While The Junior Chamber of Commerce concentrates its efforts in encouraging decoration of Sikeston homes, the senior group will devote its time to downtown, where Legion and railroad parks may be decorated, and possibly several streets. The board of public works and the council will

Two expert women operators left at least four worthless checks aggregating $33 in Sikeston and went away with change and merchandise November 16, it was learned here Tuesday when the checks were returned to the Bank of Sikeston.

Business houses reporting receipt of the valueless checks were Becker's two of $10 each; the Kent shoe store, one of $10; and Fat Williams' service station, one of $3.

The women who operated successfully here are believed to be the same ones who on November 16 also cashed worthless $5 checks at an Ilmo store and a Benton confectionery, three checks in Jackson, two in Cape Girardeau, two in Ste. Genevieve, and at least one in Perryville. All of the checks, except those at Ste. Genevieve, were drawn on the First National Bank in Cape Girardeau. Neither woman has an account in the bank, and one of them gave an address found to be a vacant lot.

Miss Edith Becker accepted the $10 checks written at Becker's. Entering the store, the two women talked easily with Miss Becker, telling her they didn't care to buy articles but had only stopped in to look around while they were waiting for a friend. They were saving their money to buy Christmas presents, they said, and one confided to the other that she had $198 in the bank.

One soon found a dress she liked and told Miss Becker she wanted it to wear to an employees' party she said the Gateway tavern manager was giving that night. Both of them worked at the Gateway, she told Miss Becker. The other woman pretended she wouldn't spend her money, but when her companion told her everyone else would be "dressed up" at the party she, too, found a dress. The first purchaser also got a hat.

Miss Becker was reluctant to accept checks and asked for references. The women had none but said they always bought their clothes at two well-known Cape Girardeau firms and one mentioned the name of a Bartel's saleswoman Miss Becker knows. They signed their names as Julia McLain and Jeanette Henshaw and the latter wrote her address as 100 South boulevard.

While the women were in Becker's, one of them frequently went outside a moment "to see if Ann had come yet". Miss Becker now believes they were frightened they might be detected before they could leave town, for just before entering Becker's they had been at Kent's, where the woman who said she was Julia McLain cashed a $10 check after buying a pair of shoes. Her check was honored when an employee recognized the other as Fern Winters, a former Vanduser woman who once worked in a cafe here and later was employed by a Cape Girardeau motor company. The woman who cashed a $3 check at Fat Williams' signed her name as Fern Winters. She was known there, also.

Miss Becker learned through a telephone call to Cape Girardeau Tuesday that no persons called Julia McLain and Jeanette Henshaw are employed at the Gateway. The women are thought to be living at the Cape.

Three on College Annual Staff

Tom Lasswell, Merlin Taylor, and Joe McCord of Sikeston have been appointed members of the Blue Jay, the annual publication of Westminster College at Fulton, it was announced Wednesday.

Mrs. M. A. Arterburn Dies Of a Throat Ailment

Mrs. M. A. Arterburn died at her home on Delmar street at 10:20 Wednesday morning. She had suffered for a year with a throat ailment.

Funeral services will be conducted in the Methodist church at 2:30 Friday afternoon. The Rev. E. H. Orear will preach. Interment will be in the city cemetery. Mrs. Arterburn was born Mary Molatt at Plainville, Ind., on June 9, 1874. She was married to Mr. Arterburn at Lawrenceville, Ill., on January 22, 1907, and twenty-five years ago she and her husband moved from Washington, Ind., to a home near Matthews. They had resided in Sikeston for many years.

Besides her husband Mrs. Arterburn is survived by a sister, Mrs. Grace Heivecker of Chehalis, Wash. Mrs. Heivecker will be unable to attend the funeral. Welsh service.

'Ichy' Arthur To Open New Cafe Saturday

Ichy Arthur's new cafe will be opened for business Saturday, it was announced today.

Throughout the week, workmen have been busy painting and installing fixtures so that the place might be ready for visitors. Persons who inspect Ichy's on Saturday will be served coffee and rolls or doughnuts without charge.

The cafe, conveniently located downtown on Kingshighway next door to Arthur's service station, is being painted in a bright, modern style and fitted with the latest equipment. Features of the cafe are a stove operated with bottled gas, a steam table, a bottle cooler, a built-in electric refrigerator, a modern canopy placed above the stove and steam table to remove grease fumes, and an electric waffle iron, toaster, juicer, mixer, and hot cup.

Eight stools are being installed in front of a counter of stainless steel. The stools and dishes are in black and white, the cafe's color scheme, which prevails throughout the interior. Walls are being enameled in black and white and the lower four feet of walls are done in a tile pattern. Effective lighting fixtures will be placed inside and outside the cafe.

Ichy's will be managed by O. J. Walker, formerly chef at the Lotus cafe, and Mrs. Walker. They will make a specialty of pancake and waffle breakfast and of steaks, sandwiches of all kinds, pastries, chili, and soup.

Mr. Arthur will not maintain a delivery service but will serve customers who stop at the curb.

Matthews School Fair and Carnival Is Well Attended

By Supt. J. W. Huckstep

The Matthews school fair and carnival was held Saturday afternoon and night. The fair consisted of forty-three classes in the various school household and farm exhibits. Many interesting things were entered. A steady stream of visitors viewed the exhibits from the opening hour until 9 o'clock in the evening. The interest and co-operation of the community was very gratifying and justifies the opinion that this might well be made an annual event. The general consensus of opinion seemed to be that the fair was very much worth while and many expressed their hearty approval of such an effort.

First, second, and third places were given in the various classes. The following are the classes and winners.

We want especially to congratulate the winners, but we want also to thank everyone for his interest, time, and work in helping to make the fair a success. We hope that everyone has been repaid in the feeling of satisfaction which his contribution has inspired.

We feel indebted to Miss Margaret Clymer of Sikeston, Owen J. Taul of Lilbourn, and Amel D. Taul of Canolau, who so kindly consented to serve as judges, and we wish to thank them for their help.

The carnival was well attended and enjoyed by everyone. The usual noisemaking and hilarity prevailed. The amateur hour was cut short because some of the entrants failed to appear. A highlight of the evening was the last few minutes of the contest for carnival queen. In an exciting race for votes, Marie Shell of the Sophomore class was selected with 2323 votes, with Maggie Ruth Spalding of the freshman class, a close second with 2241 votes. Gross receipts from the carnival were $101.58.

LOSER OF TURKEY GAME BET TO WHEEL WINNER

Either James H. Lewis or David H. Cline will be very tired at about noon Friday.

The approach of the Charleston-Sikeston Thanksgiving day game always intensifies feeling among fans, and this year it has produced a novel bet between two men.

Mr. Cline believes the Bulldogs will win; Mr. Lewis backs the Blue Jays. So they made a bet, which they signed and sealed, and the loser must push the winner to Morehouse in a wheelbarrow Friday morning. The journey will be started from the Bijou at 10 o'clock. Both are confident they will ride.

PARENT-TEACHER MEETING

The December meeting of the P.-T. A. will be held Thursday night, December 3, at 7:30, in the study hall of the high school building. The topic for the evening will be "Child's Health" and the principal speaker will be Mrs. Della Poe, Sikeston school nurse, who will describe her work and outline the State child's health program. This program will be held under the auspices of the welfare committee of the P.-T. A. of which Mrs. W. H. Sikes is chairman.

Mrs. H. L. Boaz returned to her home in Parma, Tuesday, after visiting last week with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Conatser.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dover and Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Hollingsworth left Wednesday afternoon for Fayette, Mo., to spend Thanksgiving with their son, Joe Dover, and daughter, Miss Wooten Hollingsworth who are students at Central college.

BERTRAND FARMER DIES OF BLOOD POISONING

William Phillips of near Bertrand died at the Southeast Missouri hospital in Cape Girardeau early Wednesday of blood poisoning which developed after he injured his hand while work on the R. A. Moore farm. He was 51 years old.

Funeral services were held Thursday at the Taylor cemetery south of Essex.

Mr. Phillips was born at Cumberland Furnace, Tenn., on October 2, 1885. His wife and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Phillips of Cumberland Furnace, survive. Albritton service.

For President in 1940
BENNETT CHAMP CLARK OF MISSOURI

Personally we are very glad to learn that F. J. Pendergast, who has been seriously ill for the past five months, has so far recovered as to return to his home in Kansas City. He expects to rest in peace and quiet in his home for two weeks then take up his duties at his down town headquarters. For the next few weeks he will be devoted to death by political pie hunters and for that reason has indorsed all who are now holding positions with his former indorsement, to be retained under Major Stark's administration. Major Stark may have some political obligations of his own and should be left free to make up his own slate without pressure from any source. The Kansas City organization should be recognized in the pie cutting, but if left to the boys from the timber Mr. O'Malley would be one who would return to private practice.

This is Friday's paper printed Wednesday evening. You know the boys and girls in the office would like to be away on Thanksgiving Day and so would we. All of us expect to attend the football game at Charleston in the afternoon and lend our support and whoops for the Bull Dogs. It will be a good game it matters not who wins.

FIANCE OF MAN KILLED IN CRASH VISITED HERE

First Lieutenant Cleo R. Keen of Moberly, who was killed in a United States marine airplane crash near Annapolis Md., Friday, was the fiancé of Miss Mary McDonald of Jefferson City, a frequent guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Nolen here.

Lieutenant Keen and Sergeant Frank Egan, an enlisted man, died instantly when their ship flying low and without great speed, dipped down near a high school, wobbling, and hit slantwise in its nose in a farm field. School officials said the plane's motor appeared to be missing. Both men were attached to the Marine Corps base at Quantico, Va.

Miss McDonald, a daughter of D. D. McDonald, former counsel for the state public service commission, and Mrs. McDonald and Lieutenant Keen had not formally announced their engagement but intended to be married soon after Christmas. Miss McDonald is employed in her father's law office in Jefferson City. She was last here on November 15, when she returned home after a visit with the Nolens.

ARRANGING FOR NATIONAL HEAD'S VISIT TO CAPE

J. Grant Frye of Ilmo, past state commander of the American Legion, has been appointed chairman in charge of a committee arranging for a visit of Harry W. Colmery, national Legion commander, to Cape Girardeau December 11.

Details of the visit have not yet been formulated, Frye said, but according to present plans, Colmery will speak at a large night meeting and will appear at the state teachers' college during the day if he arrives in Cape Girardeau in time.

Colmery will be accompanied to the Cape by State Commander H. H. Lark, the 285-pound Legionnaire of Steelville, and by Al J. Haemerle, the present national executive committee from Missouri who directed the St. Louis national Legion convention.

Mrs. William A. McCracken, state president of the auxiliary, and members of all Southeast Missouri posts and auxiliary units have been invited to attend.

A CHANCE TO HELP

Mrs. O. L. Spencer, President of the Scott County Tuberculosis Association said today that letters containing the 1936 Christmas Seals were being prepared for the residents of Scott County. This year the Christmas Seals will be sold in Skeston through the mail. Mr. Fouch who is a committee member said that solicitations would be limited to a very small number of people and that those people visited personally would not receive seals through the mail. "The mail seal method is very popular and almost universally used," said Mr. Fouch.

Quite in keeping with the dignified manner in which the Seals are offered to the public is the vast amount of work achieved by the Tuberculosis Association through the funds derived from their sale. Through the sale of the tiny seals the organization is able to carry on a relentless warfare against the dread scourge tuberculosis.

The steady drop in the annual death rate from pulmonary and other forms of tuberculosis attests to the wisdom with which the Christmas Seal pennies are put to work in the fight against this disease.

Your money, spent for Christmas Seals, will do an untold amount of good. It will work during the coming year, not only in this city and county, but in Missouri and throughout the United States as well. You may have spent a dollar or two to better advantage in the past. It's doubtful.

Mrs. G. A. Dempster went to Ora, Ill., last Thursday for a short visit with Mrs. Homer Cupp, Friday night she was the guest of Mrs. Walter Husband in East St. Louis, who entertained members of the Priscilla club of which Mrs. Dempster is a former member. Mrs. Dempster returned home Saturday.

THANK YOU

The T. E. L. class of the Baptist church wish to thank those who helped so willingly in the bake sale, and especially the non-members of the class.

Miss Rebecca Pierce returned Sunday from East Prairie where she spent a few days in the interest of the W. B. A.

WILL ATTEND WEDDING IN ST. LOUIS

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Poage and son Arden of Charleston, Mrs. C. B. Poage, Elmer Poage and Miss Mayme Jean Wilbur will go to St. Louis, Thursday morning and at noon, attend the wedding of Mrs. C. B. Poage's niece, Miss Etta Bosse to John Pfleger, which will be solemnized in the Third Baptist church there. Robert Poage will remain in the city for treatment at Barnes hospital and others in the party will return Thursday night.

MAN, 91, GIVEN DIVORCE FROM HIS BRIDE, 42

Doniphan, Mo., Nov. 20.—An appeal from the decision of Judge R. I. Cope in circuit court here, in which a divorce was granted yesterday to Webb P. Emily, 91 year old Civil War veteran of West Plains, from his fourth wife, Mrs. Lucy Anderson Emily, was indicated by attorneys today.

The case came to Ripley county on a change of venue. Emily contended in testimony presented during the trial that Mrs. Emily, who is 42, was guilty of unbecoming conduct. They were married on last Thanksgiving day following a whirlwind courtship at Jacksonville, Fla., where he has for several years spent his winters.

Mrs. Emily, who has been married three times, denied charges of intoxication, asserting she had been "doped" on one particular occasion when she was arrested at West Plains and served a jail sentence in lieu of a fine.

2469 MILES OF ROADS BUILT UNDER FEDERAL PROGRAM IN MISSOURI

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 25.—A total

of 2469.4 miles of highways had been completed at a cost of 23,143,470, under the various federal programs in Missouri, November 1, with 386.4 additional miles, costing $11,012,803, under construction and 144.8 more approved for construction at an estimated cost of $3,510,433, according to figures announced by Robert K. Byland, state director for the national emergency council. In October, 14,029 men had been afforded employment on federal highway projects in this state, Byland said.

Five overhead grade crossing projects, costing $261,639, had been completed by the first of this month, with 40 more viaducts, costing $5,580,301, under construction and one viaduct and two signal warnings, to cost $367,252, approved for construction.

Ryland pointed out that 1436.5 miles of highways have been completed under the 1934 and 1935 programs, at a cost of $17,409,640; with 15.3 miles, costing $2,114,082, under construction.

Under the emergency relief appropriation act of 1935 allotments, 668.2 miles have been completed at a cost of $3,087,860; with 106.4 miles under construction, costing $2,451,252 and 3.1 additional miles approved for construction at an estimated cost of $700,306.

The government bears virtually the entire cost under the 1934 and 1935 program, as well as of the grade crossing elimination projects, Ryland explained, but under the 1936 and 1937 program matches dollar for dollar with the states. Ryland's figures showed that to November 1, under this program, 364.7 miles have been constructed at a cost of $2,645,970; with 264.7, costing $6,447,469, under construction and 141.7, to cost $2,810,227, approved for construction.

Even before the Louisiana Purchase, Daniel Boone and his family had established themselves in Warren County, where he was an official of the Spanish Government. In this as in many other counties of the east central group the towns and streams have many French names and French traditions while quite a few localities have a sprinkling of French descendants.

A total of 32 legal deer were shot in Missouri during the three-day open season. This was the smallest kill since 1933 when 65 deer tags were returned.

 Tiny Beauty Salon
 Woehlecke, The Florist

I KNOW that you folks here think just as much of Christmas as any other community. And you know, too, that the "Spirit of Christmas" always arrives on time, although it sometimes works a hardship on some. So I am offering you this suggestion:

Start saving Christmas Savings Stamps. You get one for every cash purchase of 10c, two for 20c, and soon. The leading merchants here listed are giving them. Patronize these merchants for your own benefit. Start today to save Christmas Savings Stamps. Fill the small book furnished you for the purpose and bring it to the bank below, which is acting as "Redemption Agent" for these stamps. The bank will credit any account you have or should care to open with $1.00; or if you so wish it, will pay you $1.00 in cash, subject to the Customer's Agreement in the stamp book. And just think! If you put this money in a Christmas Club or Savings Account, you will receive interest. This makes double interest: you get interest on what you spend and interest on what you save. Make all this possible by getting Christmas Savings Stamps at the stores listed at left.

Personal News of Sikeston

Mrs. Ed Kendall, Reporter, Phones 761w and 137

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ansell of Cape Girardeau are expected to spend Thanksgiving with the former's mother, Mrs. Anna Ansell.

Miss Henrietta Moore and John Wilson, who are students at the University of Missouri in Columbia, will arrive Thursday morning for the Thanksgiving holidays.
Billy Bob Donnell, Charles Mc-Mullin and John Bailey, will remain in Columbia for the football game, and expect to arrive here
Friday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Clay of Mexico, Mo., and Mr. and Mrs.
Carl Setz and little daughter Sue, arrived Wednesday afternoon to spend Thanksgiving with Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Laurence and Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Stalleup.

Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Keady and Miss Kathryn Clark will leave
Thursday morning to spend Thanksgiving as guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Newer in University City. Mrs. Wm. Bowles will accompany them to the city and visit her sister, Mrs. Roberta Anderson, until Saturday, when the party will return to Sikeston.

Mrs. Oscar Carroll went to St.
Louis Tuesday to be with her husband who underwent an operation Wednesday morning at Jewish hospital in St. Louis.

Mrs. James Matthews and daughter Elizabeth went to Union, Mo., Tuesday to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Thias.
Mr. Matthews and his mother, Mrs. R. C. Matthews accompanied them as far as St. Louis, and returned home that night.

Miss Margaret and James Corrigan of Poplar Bluff are expected to spend Saturday and Sunday here as guests of their grandmother, Mrs. Betty Matthews.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Stearns expect to have as guests for Thanksgiving dinner, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Rodeck and daughter
Ruth, and Mr. and Mrs. Robt.
Jones, of Johnson City, Ill., and
Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Pinnell, Jr.
Mrs. Rodeck and her daughter will visit her sisters, Mrs. Stearns and Mrs. Pinnell until Sunday and the others plan to return to their homes Thursday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Dye of Benton visited their daughter,
Mrs. Gene Potashnick, Saturday.
Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Nolen will spend Thanksgiving with the formers brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Bennett in Fulton, Ky.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Sharp of Gideon were guests of the former's brother-in-law and sister,
Mr. and Mrs. Pleas Malcolm, over the week end.

Mrs. Kate Harris and her daughhalf of the United States. He will reach New York by Christmas.

Mr. Ordovery left here with a warning that the retail price of fur coats will rise 35 per cent during the coming season. "If a woman wants a fur coat, I urge her to buy now and save this difference," he said. "She can get her coat immediately, wear it before Christmas, and pay for it on our twelve-month budget plan."

Residents said they had never before seen such a complete stock of fur coats here as Mr. Ordovery brought. Coats retailing at $59.50 to $500 hung on racks at Buckner Ragsdale's throughout Monday, the display featuring Persian lambs, caraculs, Jap minks, ponies, caraculs, Fitches, northern seals, Mendoza beavers, um-bre lapin, and kidskins.

Styles also were varied, with swagger, princess, and tunics predominating, and many of the newer fashions in fur coat details were shown, including the Peter Pan, Ripple Johnny, airplane, and tulip collars and the balloon, bell, and Gibson Girl sleeves. Some models had fullness at the elbows and others were fashioned in the popular flair or swing or box styles. Fifth avenue and Vogue coats were among the distinctive collection.

At the Malone Sunday night, these young women modeled coats of their own choice while

Mr. Ordovery described them:
Miss Sylvia Goldstein, Miss Hazel
Young, Miss Lucille Adams, Mrs.
Walter Ancell, Miss Neva Mae
Taylor, Mrs. Robert Mow, Jr.,
Miss Rita Heisserer, and Miss Jane Mitchell.

Service Truck Catches Fire

Milem Limbaugh's Ford roadster service truck was slightly damaged late Monday night when it was set on fire by an overturned can of gasoline. The negro porter and Bob Dover were driving on West Malone avenue to Dover's car, which was without gasoline. Firemen put out the blaze before it had spread from the interior of the cab. Limbaugh said the damage did not exceed $5.

The Rev. Verne F. Oglesby will preach at morning and evening services of the Baptist church Sunday. Mr. Oglesby has been conducting revivals since he resigned in September as pastor of the Sikeston church.

WE ARE THANKFUL

This year that our store is located in this fine town, not only because of the large volume of business that you have favored us with—but because of the fact that we number our friends here by the hundreds. The personnel of this store has endeavored through the years to make a personal friend of each customer—basing this effort upon the fact that we never misrepresent either by word of mouth or in our advertising.

Buckner-Ragsdale Company

SIKESTON

ONE MOMENT PLEASE

By Fay Kerr

As Thanksgiving day approaches and we again count our blessings, we should give thanks a little more humbly and gratefully this year than usual. We have many problems, personal and national, but we have more for which to be thankful than most people and most nations. We have a president with a great heart who covets nothing but the good-will of all nations. That should insure to us a peaceful administration. With Europe in the throes of war we might easily be drawn into the maelstrom. Let us be thankful that we have peace and let us offer an extra prayer for a continuance of peace.

In my reading I came across an article that interested me very much. It contained a number of things that most of us would consider trouble and affliction—yet this man gave thanks for those very experiences. There is much food for thought in the article.

A Man's Thanksgiving: "God of commonsense, I give Thee thanks for the heavy blows of pain that drive me back from perilous ways in to harmony with the laws of my being; for the stinging whips of hunger and cold that urge to bitter strivings and glorious achievement; for steepness of the way and staunch virtues, gained by climbing over jagged rocks of hardship and stumbling through dark pathless sloughs of discouragement; for the acid blight of failure that has burned out of me all thought of easy victory and toughened my sinews for fiercer battles and greater triumphs; for mistakes I have made, and the priceless lessons I have learned from them; for disillusion and disappointment that have cleared my vision and spurred my desire; for strong appetites and passions and the power they give when under pressure and control; for my imperfections that give me the keen delight of striving toward perfection."

"God of common good and human brotherhood, I give Thee thanks for siren songs of temptation that lure and entangle and the understanding of other men they reveal; for the weaknesses and failings of my neighbors and the joy of lending a helping hand; for my own short-comings, sorrows and loneliness, that give me a deeper sympathy for others; for ingratitude and misunderstanding and the gladness of service without other reward than self-expression"—Arthur W. Newcomb.

Every experience can be turned to advantage if we have wisdom enough to take it for what it is worth. If it is detrimental to our development then we should be wise enough not to repeat the performance. If it is broadening and leads to more abundant living it should be cultivated. It isn't what happens to a man that makes or breaks him, but his reaction to it. This is a crowded world and we jostle others and must learn to take a little jostling ourselves. Better take the pokes in the ribs with a smile than to curdle the soul with dirty looks and ill feeling. Why should you and I have things soft? Are we anything special?

PERSONAL

Mrs. Laura Slack will have as her guests for dinner Thanksgiving day, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Slack and son Churchill, Mrs. C. E. Dover and daughter, Miss Dorothy, Miss Mary and Miss Laura.

Miss Laura Dover arrived Wednesday from the Arcadia Convalescent home, Mo., to spend the Thanksgiving holidays with her mother, Mrs. C. E. Dover, and family.
